

Letter from the Editor

| by Sheila Rossiter

This year has been challenging to say the least. It is the year of ultimate flexibility, cancelled plans, excessive social media, not enough true human interaction, and Zoom.

This year it seems more important than ever to reflect upon and pay special attention to the meaning behind the season, and ask yourself...what is truly important?

Our community is no exception.

The volunteer trustees have worked very hard to listen, be thoughtful, thorough, and take into account the entire neighborhood in the decision-making process. From rethinking seasonal events to revisiting community by-laws, your trustees have tried to make the very best of these crazy times.

While some of our community-wide holiday activities needed to be altered this year, we hope what can be done adds some simple holiday magic no matter what your faith has you celebrate.

And remember, a little kindness goes a long way, Happy Holidays!

Meeting Recap & Trustee Contact Information

Each issue, we would like to highlight topics from the Trustee Meeting/s/.

Holiday

The Trustees re-engineered the traditional holiday activities to account for COVID-19 restrictions. Please see the events calendar.

Sheds

The board does not have the authority to "allow" sheds. A resident is currently working on a petition to change the deed restrictions. We will keep you apprised of the situation. The trustees will hold a community forum in January or February to address issues and concerns from both those in favor and opposed. Please note any by-law change will require an HOA attorney. Our current attorney has asked to recuse himself.

Website

The donated website is being finalized.

Next Meeting: January 28, 6:30 pm.
Location TBD. (December meeting postponed due to Christmas.)
